Club Entertains Leaders at Luncheon: Morgan Has 325 4-H Members were guests of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club at the Thursday meeting of its members. An explanation of the organization of Four-H clubs and the purposes of the groups was given by G. S. Randall, assistant Boys' Four-H club leader of the state and director of the rural youth program.

Mr. Randall said members of the clubs are girls and boys between the ages of 10 and 20 years. In Morgan county in 1932 there were 179 members and this year there is a total membership of 325. The leaders of the clubs take the responsibility of seeing that the groups function in their respective communities. Mr. Randall explained that Farm Adviser I. E. Parett is responsible for the club work in the county and the University of Illinois department of agriculture is responsible for work in the state.

Each Four-H club member undertakes a project annually. The members keep records, hold meetings, carry out programs, and work and play together. The projects usually start some time between January and June

OF "BUGS" BLOCKS CONTROL OF PESTS

Urbana, Ill.-Of the hundreds of insect specimens which worried farmers and other citizens sent to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, each week for identifie many are so badly damaged in shipment as to make identification impossible, according to W. P. Fint. chief entomologist of the college and the Illinois State Natural History Sur-

One danger in this is that if some new or rare insect should be found in some part of the state and then be damaged beyond identification in shipment, there might be costly and needless delay in combating an outbreak of the pest.

There are more than 20.000 different kinds of insects occurring in Illinois, all of which have at least three distinctly different forms or life stages. To be able to recognize any one insects from this group, it is necessary to see various things on the insect's body, such as color, shape, mouth parts, wings and legs. When these structures are destroyed his crushing in the mails, it often is impossible to make identifications.

The damage is caused by the insects being sealed in ordinary envelopes or flimsy paper boxes and then being smashed when the mail goes through the stamping machine. The entomology staff is more than glad to assist farmers, gardeners and homemakers of the state in identifying insects. Flint stated, but that is almost impossible when the "bug" arrives in the form of a sticky smudge with only a part of a leg or wing intact.

One of the best systems of mailing specimens is to drop the insect into a tin tobacco box, wrap and tie the box securely and mail it. With especially fragile specimens it is sometimes a good idea to use cotton packing inside the box.

Another good method of shipping insect specimens is to place them inside a bottle and close the bottle with a cotton stopper. The cotton is preferred, since it seldom shakes out as will a rubber or cork stopper and at the same time allows air to pass into the bottle and prevent the decay and putrefaction of the insect. The bottle is harder to wrap and address than the tin box, since it must be packed inside some sort of container to pre-

Whatever kind of package is used. the sender should address the package to the chief entomologist at Upbana, using plain accurate lettering. If the package is sent by parcel post, as is usually done, there should be no writing other than the sender's name and address in the package unless it is sent first class.

You DON'T catch me talking back to the Old Man-my father, I mean. Yuh see, he thinks he knows everything! Why, geewhiz :: he reads the gasoline ads, specially the ones with pretty girl pictures in 'em, and then he gets a tankful of stuff nobody ever heard of. Yeah, a swell guy but a poor picker.

"Well, this afternoon being Sunday, we went for a ride : : : me all dressed up in a goofy bonnet with a big scratchy bow under my good ear. The traffic was terrific and the heat was goshawful. So out of sheer irritation I grabbed my forty winks.

"When I woke up, a motorcycle cowboy in a beautiful blue uniform was telling Pops that he couldn't park in the middle of the parade. I thought there were tears in Father's eyes-maybe it was only perspiration-as he answered 'My engine's dead. Help me push the car over to the curb."

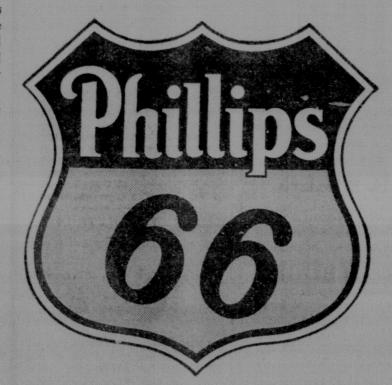

"Boyohboy, was that motor hot! Clouds of steam sizzling out of the radiator. Funny gurglings and thumpings under the hood as

Dad peered in. For crying out loud, was his face red when Auntie's car and then the Claytons' and the Merrivales' passed, and they all saw us stuck there! But the real bad news is the bill we got for towing and for two new bearings.

til Daddy learned gasolines

"No sir, for the life of me, I can't see the economy of using cheap gasoline : : : especially when Phillips 66 is engineered for specific summer weather, same as it is for definite winter cold. Anyone can see that a gasoline made different for the different seasons of the year is gonna give better results. What's the sense of trying to save cents and wasting dollars, when you can get 100% custom-tailored gasoline-yes, I mean Phillips 66 - for the same price as ordinary gas?

"P. S. Since writing the above, the car's been fixed and we're using Phillips 66, and Mother says the budget's in better shape than ever because we're getting more miles and less repair bills."

FOOD PROTECTION

You are the one who benefits, who saves when the family food supply is protected in a modern ice refrigerator. All food is kept at safe temperatures. Food odors are removed and complete air conditioning is assured 5 to 7 times a minute. A constant supply of moisture keeps all perishable foods fresh. In addition to this triple food protection, modern styling has found its most pleasing interpretation in the ice refrigerator of today. In thousands of smart modern kitchens where ice refrigerators have replaced worn out cooling equipment and old style ice refrigerators, no other type of refrigerator would be acceptable today. Women who see the immediate economy and improvement in food preservation put their all-time O. K. on the

Stocks Absorb Big Pressure To Sell

New York, June 20.—(P)—The stock 80%-81 market had to absorb considerable selling in the early hours today but a quiet recovery was under way before 811-82 the close which partially erased early 761-1 losses in many issues.

President Roosevelt's wealth decentralization plan through increased taxation made rather cheerless reading 33-33 to some Wall street eyes, and the 41-1 market had to contend with the usual "corrective" reaction which follows a sustained upturn, in the opinion of many market observers.

Corporate loans followed along in the wake of the share market, although a last-hour improvement left theory that higher corporation taxes would not be so bullish for listed loans generally.

The majority of federal issues lost from 132-nd to 8-32nds of a point following the announcement of Secretary Morgenthau that on payt Morgenthau that the treasury planned sale of $100,000,000 of 3 per cent bonds on a competitive bid basis next Monday. announcement of Secretary Morgen- Atlantic Refining ...... 26%

However, poorly-maintained terraces were not satisfactory in stopping soil Mark Cridland of Chicago is visiting washing, even though the rains for the for a few days at the home of his

Keeping field terraces in good repair is as important as it is simple, in the opinion of Hay. If they were originally constructed at the proper grade with wide, flat channels and with ridges of sufficient height and width, terraces can be maintained with little labor and at small cost.

As an example, only a fer hours extra work were required the libring to restore the effectiveness of teraces built in 1931 on the farm of George Hayes, near Galva in Henry county In breaking up the field preparatory to planting it, Hayes back-furrowed along the top of each terrace ridge and used a V-drag to open the terrace hannels. Now his terraces are in better condition than when first built.

Terraces on cultivated land can not perly maintained. Plowing, planting or cultivating across the ridges rather than with the terraces may destroy the whole system in one year. Hay declared. Such a practice will allow water to run through the ridge during heavy rains and small guiltes will be rapidly formed.

Farming terraced land on the contour, that is following the terraces, really amounts to terracing the entire surface. While the regular terraces perform the big job of conserving soil and preventing run-off, the crop rows, RAINFALL OF MONTH following the terraces, act as small terraces
